From a Gentleman in JAPAN
Tottori, Japan, Sept. 11, 1895.
Mason & Hamlin Co.,
146—Boylston St., Boston
Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

The annual general meetiag of the English Entertainment Society was held on Wednesday evening, Mr. W. Baring in the chair. The report and accounts for 1895 showing progress, and increased receipts were approved, and a vote of thanks passed to outgoing Committee. Mr. Baring was re-elected President of the society by acclamation, and Messrs. Staham Schwartz, Denstone, Reid, Towers, Lane, Hogge, Wingate, Atkinson, O'Donaghue and Cruickshank were most deservingly elected Committee men for the coming season, and should have the united support and co-operation of all English-speaking residents here.

The last novel and amusing strike here is that of the newspaper's "vendedores" against the popular evening daily El Dia, which still continues to the great annoyance of the bobbies and detriment to that journal. THE CRISIS IN EUROPE.

Statements and Misstatements.

England Scores.

Complications between France and the Triple Alliance.

The question between Spain and the United States.

The Cuban Burn down Cabañas.

Defeat or Victory?

Paris, 20th—The Matin states that Monsieur Berthelot has declared that the note sent to the British Ambassador on the 17th with reference to the Dongola Expedition was not of an official character.

London, 20th—The English Press is greatly pleased at the direction affairs are taking in the question with France about the Dongola Expedition. The papers express the belief that it will be carried out in the face of the opposition of M. Faure's Government and of their endeavour to obtain practical support from Russia. The Times does not apprehend that the peace of Europe will be disturbed and looks upon the present attitude of England fresh diplomatic triumph.

Berlin, 20th—It is announced that the Government will be questioned in the Reichstag as to what course it intends to take in the Anglo-Egyptian question. The Socialists intend to oppose the Government in the matter.

St. Petersburg, 20th — The principal Russian journals continue to condemn the Dongola campaign and maintain that it is simpiy a pretext of the Salisbury Cabinet to prolong the occupation of Egypt. The official organs urge the Government to prevent the expedition being carried out. In military circles opinion generally is utterly hostile to England.

Rome, 20th—The majority of the Italian papers consider that the Egyptian question between France and England has brought about a serious crisis in European politics. Some of the leading papers say that Italy should ask England for guarantees before joining her in a campaign against the Caliph!!!!

London, 20th—The news of the evacuation of Kassala published yesterday by the Times has not been confirmed. In the House of Commons, the Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs said that the Government had no official information on the subject, and did not believe the telegram in the Times.

Cairo, 20th—Germany, Austria and Italy have signified their consent to the Egyptian Exchequer that the expenses of the Dongola Expedition be defrayed by Egypt. So far France and Russia have said nothing, but their silence is ominous.

Genoa, 20th—The Emperor William is expected here on the 24th, and great preparations are being made for his reception. Great importance is attached to the coming interview.

Paris, 20th—The report that England has joined the Triple Alliance is not believed, but there is a general conviction that there exists—and has existed for years—a secret agreement with Italy.

Washington, 20th.—President Cleveland had a long interview with Mr. Carlisle on the question of the filibustering expeditions to Cuba, and the advisability of the United States adopting some measnres to prevent the violation of neutrality. Immediately after the interview Mr. Carlisle sent out a circular to the Custom House authorities ordering them to seize all armament destined for Cuba, provided it be clearly proved that the armament is for the insurgents. The ambiguous wording of the circular has given rise to much comment.

New York, 20th.—The following particulars have been received with reference to the supposed assault on the United States Consul in Puerto Rico. The Consulate is situated alongside the prison, where some soldiers fired off their rifles, the bullets whizzing by the Consul. One of the soldiers, on being cross-examined, stated that he aimed at the jailer and not at the Consul's house.

The official version of the incident has not yet been received.

New York, 20th—The insurgents have burned down the town Cabañas on the North coast of Pinar del Rio. Since the beginning of the revolution no less than 35 towns and villages have been burned down completely and 25 partially.

Revolutionary advices confirm the report that Linares was defeated by Maceo at Candelaria. The Spaniards sustained heavy losses. In the meantime late official advices state that although the Spaniards sustained heavy losses, they managed to defeat Maceo at Candelaria.

Gomez is now marching westward, having entered the province of Havannah. Great alarm in the Capital.

LATEST.

London, 20th—In the House this evening Mr. Morley questioned the Government about the Dongola expedition and desired to know when Egypt was to be evacuated. Mr. Chamberlain replied that Egypt would be evacuated so soon as every danger to her peace and prosperity had disappeared.

Cairo, 20th—The Caliph of Khartoum, successor of the Mahdi, is preaching a religious war throughout the Soudan.

Suez, 20th—From this port have started secretly 200 Sudanese troops led by British officers. Their destination is rumoured to be South Africa whither it is said they go to join Sir Cecil Rhodes.

France

Paris, 20th—Telegrams from St. Etienne report great excitement amongst the coal miners there, and it is feared they will strike.

The Chamber of Commerce presented to-day a note to M. Berthelot begging him to settle the Amapa question with Brazil as promptly as possible in order that no further injury may be suffered by the export-trade.

Italy

Rome, 20th—A telegram from Massauah states that the Negus Menelik is so confident of peace being signed with Italy that he has just issued a circular to be distributed throughout the Provinces of his Empire informing his subjects that peace is imminent and exhorting them to act in the future as friends of the Italians. He also counsels them to open up the country to commerce with Italy.

At to-day's sitting of the Chamber the Marquess Rudini laid on the table the documents relating to the African campaign dated from the 3rd to the 8th inst. They prove that at that time negotiations for peace had already been begun with King Menelik. Ras Makonnen, according to a despatch just received, is momentarily expected to arrive at Massauah to treat for peace with General Baldissera.

Other despatches announce that on Wednesday last the Dervishes attacked the defiles of Sabderat near Kassala. The followers of the Caliph made 4 furious charges on the Italian positions but were repulsed by the garrison with great loss.

Spain

Madrid, 20th—At Barcelona to-day the police frustrated another manifestation against the United States. They arrested six persons, two of them students.

Chile

Important Report.

More about the Cordilleras.

Santiago, 20th—At the last meeting in the Moneda, it was noticed that the Government, before entering into further negotiations, required to know the opinions of the public. The most influential men, before giving their opinion, wanted to know if Chile was prepared for war, and if there was any fear of a rupture between the two nations. The reply was that both countries were prepared to do their utmost to prevent a catastrophe; the limits questions would be easily settled if both parties made certain allowances.

The news that Chile still holds out for arbitration is perfectly exact. The hitch in the affair in that it is feared the frontier line in the Southern Cordilleras will be a difficult question to settle between both republics. The dispute will probably arise about the territories in Patagonia in the Buta Palena zone; great care will be required to settle this division fairly between the two nations.

Chile and Perú

Opinions of the "Heralde"

The trials of the Huber

Valparaiso, 20th—The Heraldo, in answer to an article in the Prensa, maintains that the decline of Perú cannot be attributed to Chile. The simple fact of tha Tarapaca was never a sourse of much revenue to Peru. When Chile acquired this territory after the war, no one was aware that the district was of such value as to produce the millions it does at present.

The latest from Talcahuano informs us that the trial trips of the submarine Huber have turned out entirely to the satisfaction of the inventor.

Bolivia

New candidates for the Vice-Presidency.

La Paz, 20th—The Liberal Party in Sucre have proclaimed as candidates for the Vice-Presidency Messrs. Juan Carrillo and Pastor Sanjines. The question of Tacna and Arica has again revived.

Brazil

New departure of the Military Club.

Rio Janeiro, 20th—A petition has been presented to Government signed by Generals Cnstro, Magalhaes, Colonel Homen and Commander Moreira to commence the armament of Braziz both on land as well as on sea. The petition will be discussed to-morrow in a secret sitting.

An English syndicate has proposed to Government to buy the Central Railway for 25 millions pounds sterling in Bonds of the External Debt. Other parties are also interested in the telegraph lines.

CAVE EMPTOR.

One of the most important cases ever brought before an Argentine Tribunal has just been decided by the Civil Judge Dr. Posse. The facts of the case are as follow:—Mr. John Basassi bought from Mrs. Dolores Ponce de Rodriguez a fine house in the Calle Talcahuano No. 52 and 62, and the title deeds were made out by the well-known and respectable escribano Don Vicente Artola. Previous to the signing of the title deeds the usual and customary searches were made in the office of the registry of properties which is under the charge and administration of Dr. Don Carlos Rosetti. The certificates having been obtained from this office that the property in question was free from all charge, mortgage, or incumbrance, the sale was perfected: the purchase money paid, and the title deeds signed in Artola's office. Mr. Basassi, the purchaser, at once proceeded to take possession of the house, and found to his astonishment that it was occupied by a Mr. Joseph Isola, who shewed Mr. Basassi two public contracts executed in the office of the well-known escribano Mr. Morgan, and both contracts duly inscribed in the Public Registry Office. One of these contracts was a mortgage on the property in question which the lady who sold the house to Basassi had effected for $22,900, and the other contract was a lease of the house for a number of years at a very cheap rent, much lower than the interest on the purchase money. The mortgage on the house was registered so far back as the 23rd March 1887, and the lease of the premises was for only $120 per month, whilst Mr. Basassi on purchasing the property had rented it to a good tenant for $600 a month.

Bassasi, of course, at once brought an action against Dr. Carlos Rosetti, the Chief of the Registry Office. Dr. Ayerza was his lawyer. The judge took some time to study the responsibility of public functionaries, and has at last decided the case, as already mentioned, condemning Dr. Rosetti to pay Mr. Bassasi the full amount of the mortgage $22,900, and also the difference between the rent which the premises are worth to-day and the low rent of $180 a month expressed in the lease which Señor Isola had, and for the full term of that contract.

It is difficult to see what other judgment could have been given by any Court of Justice or Judge in so flagrant a case, and we are not in possession of the facts brought before the judge to exculpate Dr. Rosetti from his responsibility. It is possible that through the neglect of one of the clerks in the Registry office to make the proper searches the certificate declaring the property free of every incumbrance was given: but the public has a right to demand more searching inquiry into the matter, as such a flagrant error or neglect by one of the clerks in so important a department as the Registry of deeds bears the primafacie stamp of something more than neglect.

We believe that this is the first case of the kind that has ever occurred in this market, but it is one of the most supreme interest to all; and none can better understand its importance than the Escribanos, whose chief business is the making out of title deeds to property. A 'gremio' so intelligent, so important as that of the escribanos should certainly take some steps to sift the causes that led to this lawsuit. The mere payment of the mortgage and the difference in the rent by the Chief of the Registry department is, we hold, not sufficient to satisfy the investing public, and the Escribanos themselves must be fully aware of this. It is to be hoped, therefore, that they will take some collective action in the matter as the case in question is greatly calculated to disturb public confidence, and give a new significance to the well known legal proverb Cave Emptor.

EUROPEAN STORM-CLOUDS.

Although less alarming, the telegrams received yesterday depict a situation that is by no means tranquillising. The cool determination of England to assist Italy, and the feverish indignation of France, are reflected not only in the press but also in the parliaments of the respective countries. The sitting in the House of Commons on Thursday night was one of extraordinary interest: there was not a seat vacant, and all eyes were fixed on the ministerial bench. Labouchere opened fire by asking if there existed: as was currently rumoured, a secret alliance with Italy, and indeed only such a pact could explain the recent organization for the relief of Kassala and the heavy disbursements occasioned thereby in the Egyptian Treasury. "But," Labouchere went on to say, "if there is no alliance, why should we bring about serious complications by helping a nation that could be of very little assistance to us should we require its services? The first consequence of this false step we can now see in the attitude assumed by France, whose Government has already informed our ambassador that the results of the move may prove most serious. Naturally, Great Britain can afford to laugh at the threats of any power, but still we are committing an act of imprudence by forfeiting the friendship of a neighbour merely to please a nation with which we have no connection whatever. If, as the papers announce, Kassala has been abandoned by the Italian troops, then where is the object of the Dongola Expedition, and if the object of England be to reconquer the Soudan, then the Government should openly state its policy."

The Hon. George Nathaniel Curzon, representing the Government, replied. The Italians, he said, were friends not allies of England. There is no alliance between Great Britain and Italy, and there is no obligation, therefore, on our part to come to the assistance of Italy, but our friendship for the Italians is sincere. Independent of this action there are other reasons for cooperating with Italy. The Dervishes are a common danger for the European powers in Africa. In organising the Dongola Expedition we have been guided not only by our friendship for Italy but also by our interests. As regards the attitude of France we must not be led away by the sensational statements of the newspapers. M. Berthelot has denied all the statements attributed to him by the press. We have no idea what the French Government thinks of the Dongola Expedition, for nothing official has been communicated in that respect. We trust that the French Government will not consider itself affected in its interests, and that it will continue to entertain for us the same feeling of friendship that has hitherto existed."

This last sentence is significant, since, under the mask of a hope of friendship, it points to an under-feeling of indifference, and to a coolness of determination truly Britannic.

Turn we now to the French. The Max Lebaudy scandals, the coming exhibition, the scandals of the "monde" and "demi-monde," and all the usual topics of the Boulevard have been shelved. "La perfide Albion" is the pivot of conversation. At the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies on Thursday there was not standing room in the Palais Bourbon. Deputy Charmes asked the Minister to explain the exact position of affairs. M. Berthelot replied that the British Government had consulted France as to the advisability of applying part of the Egyptian reserves towards defraying the cost of the Dongola Expedition. The French Government, in view of the fact that the greater part of the reserves was French money, refused to countenance any such disbursement. The expedition was of an offensive character, and would therefore cost more than had been calculated. Furthermore, the expedition would only tend to prolong the British occupation of Egypt, and this was contrary to French interests.

And thus the quarrel stands. Relations are strained, the papers are excited, and a false move may bring on war, disaster and ruin.

LONDON LETTER.

THE TORY GOVERNMENT AT WORK.

SOCIAL AMELIORATIONS.

MR. BALFOUR'S PROPOSALS ON PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

February 21st.

Her Majesty's reply to the address was read only last night by the Lord Chancellor, and already in the lower house our active Government have successfully launched bills of social importance such as those relating to Light Railways and Boards of Conciliation, while the London County Tramways Bill suspended from last session has been read a third time. This looks like business; but it does not satisfy the First Lord of the Treasury, who wishes to be up to date and increase the speed by the only effectual means, the reform of the procedure of the House. The discussion of the question is adjourned till the 24th inst. Meanwhile it is no exaggeration to say that both benches and all parties have been entranced —or in modern phraseology, hypnotised —by Mr. Balfour's persuasive, argumentative, novel, plausible, clever explanations of his proposals to be formally debated next week. There will be no object in troubling you with the technical details of parliamentary procedure commonly known as the "business of the House," and involving questions of form few but experts and very old parliamentary hands can venture to touch. It will be sufficient to say that for the excellent motive of facilitating parliamentary business, by clipping the wings of private members, by relieving the House and the public from delays caused by faddists and parliamentary bores, Mr. Balfour proposes to limit debates on supply to 20 days, and to place more time at the disposal of Government measures. By such limitations he hopes to accelerate legislation and afford members the pleasure of grouse shooting on the 12th August, and the benefit of a fair share of a holiday at the end, as he says, at least, of an English summer. When the proposals were printed and before Mr. Balfour had spoken, there was the usual outcry from certain parties against this attack upon the privileges of parliament and the British Constitution.

Our philosophic and almost democratic First Lord of the Treasury had carefully anticipated obvious and common-place objections. In his speech, filled with honeyed words and sweet reasonableness as well as a highly intellectual appreciation of modern conditions, he reminded objectors that we were no longer in the days of Mr. Hume, who at even such a comparatively late period of our history had to deal with extravagant and jobbing Governments. No such thing now existed. He blandly assured us that all he wanted were more modern instruments, and to substitute the guillotine for the rack. It was perfectly rational, and to-day and to-morrow and on the coming sabbath, members of Parliament will roll in their minds their choice of evils, and who knows if they be not almost persuaded to accept the guillotine. The Liberals cannot object, for it was they invented it. Some old Tories who oppose innovation may give Mr. Balfour most trouble. On the other hand, it has been pointed out that with regard to rapid legislation there is a qualitative as well as a quantitative theory. Mr. Gladstone's principle of devolution has been referred to as already employed in Europe and the United States, and if Mr. Balfour's proposals get through, the probability is they will undergo considerable amendment in the direction of grand Committees, and as Sir Charles Dilke suggests, closure by compartments. It is true that Mr. Balfour has divided his scheme into halves—relating respectively to the privileges of private members and to the vote on supplies. He will not allow one half to be taken and the other left. If his resolution does not in the main meet the views of the House, it will simply be abandoned.

As he says with great truth, if it be abandoned some other resolution of the kind, will have to be passed. Still there is some distinction between the naked axe Mr. Balfour wants to handle, and which made the Irish members wince, and that thorough reform of parliamentary procedure a true Radical Government might propose. Mr. Balfour's sweet reasonableness and frankly advanced and even democratic eagerness for revolution may be only the mask of the executioner. Just at this moment, if one speaks of the devil, Mr. Chamberlain appears. It is very absurd, but Mr. Gould's caricatures have accustomed us to see a Chamberlain, within a Salisbury, a Hercules Robinson within a Chamberlain, and Kruger inside a Robinson. Perhaps it is, that finally the primitive man is inside Kruger and all of us. Stirring events bring him out. It is foolish to hint, as is already done, that Mr. Balfour's resolution was inspired by Mr. Chamberlain. Both statesmen are only younger than their colleagues. Their speeches present the antithesis of that old House of Commons full dress oratory I spoke of in a recent letter. They mean business, and whatever may be their political prejudices and ambitions, they know well that all roads lead to Rome; or as a Scotch member, Mr. Shaw, lately reminded us, the present Unionist Government must do the work of the Liberals It cannot help itself. The million—"that paltry sum" as Mr. Allan the member for Gateshead calls it—to be voted for light railways may grow into many millions. The Board of Conciliation which is to settle labour disputes may ultimately mean the enthronement of Labour. The present is a delicate position for far seeing Conservatives like Mr. Balfour. "When other hearts shall wear a mask, t'will break your own to see, in such a moment" — Balfour may say — "I but ask, that you'll remember me!! High-minded, metaphysician, musician, he is far above vulgar deceit and dog-like combativeness. On the brink of strange waters, he is ready for a plunge. An honourable and natural attachment to an older statesman who clings to ancient traditions causes him to fence with destiny. Many may see Arthur James Balfour Prime Minister. Some will live to see him social-democrat.

It is quite in accordance with the real drift of the epoch, in spite of Jamesonworship and the meteor-like rise and fall of Cecil Rhodes, that Major Arthur C. Leonard Consed of the Niger Coast protectorate should upon landing at Liverpool tell us that the Royal Niger Company initiated a work the Government was neither adapted to nor prepared for. He rings the knell of Chartered Companies in assuring us that whites and blacks on the different rivers in the Niger district would welcome our Government and the absorption of the Company. "Stuff," say our friends, quoting an old, old article in the Times, "you want to make a Holland of England." Yes, but what does Sir William Harcourt say? "Mr. Rhodes is a modest gentleman." He asks only for protection and slavery.

The Armenian blue books have been carefully perused by the atrocity-mongers, including the Duke of Argyll, and, as far as His Grace is concerned, with the following result:

"The Duke of Argyll," says the Times, "whose zeal in the cause of the Armenians cannot be questioned, and who still holds strong views about our national duty in the matter, is convinced that the action of the Government is not open to attack and that their defeat is due to insuperable conditions of geography and European politics."

Of course, anyone but downright fanatics must have seen this from the first. The real point is in the following remark of the Times:

"It is a fantastically unjust judgment to hold Lord Salisbury responsible for the failure. He is, however, responsible for using language in public which seemed to hold out extravagant expectations of success, and he will probably suffer for the increased disappointment they occasioned."

The following is in all the evening papers. This edition is from the Westminster Gazette:—

Be it remembered that the following is taken from the Vienna correspondence of the Standard, a morning paper with which Mr. Alfred Austin, the Poet Laureate, has not been altogether unconnected:—"Here Max Nordau contributes to the Neue Freie Presse, in the form of a 'feuilleton' running into eleven half-columns, an appreciation of the new Poet Laureate. It is the most elaborate study of modern English literature which has appeared in any German paper, and does ample justice to Mr. Austin, though not, perhaps, an equal degree to his contemporaries. At the same time, Herr Nordau is highly laudatory of Englishmen in general, and it is interesting to note that his panegyric appears in the Neue Freie Presse, which not very long ago permitted another feuilletonist to call the English 'the Chinese of Europe,' and to enlarge upon that happy idea. Dr. Max Nordau considers Mr. Austin 'the most perfect embodiment of Anglo-Saxonism in the literature of our time; arch-English in his likes and dislikes.' He goes on to explain what the English are, and to ridicule the notion, so dear to Continental writers, that the British are a nation of shopkeepers. Indeed!' he exclaims. 'Those who fought at Hastings like giants and Titans, who subdued two continents, are ruling two hundred million Asiatics by the will and nerve of a couple of thousand of their race, who brought to their knees such men as Napoleon I. and Nicolas I., and who still have their Jamesons to demonstrate that their old strength of will and power of ruling over others have not yet died out! If these are the characteristics of shopkeepers, what is the essential difference between shopkeepers and the heroes of the Greek Myth?' 'The ruling classes of England,' he proceeds, 'are the most powerful race of masters the world has seen since the Republic of Rome and the early Roman Empire, and Alfred Austin is of that stock. To please an Englishman one must be strong and daring. The English are a bluff race, incomparable friends and terrible enemies, rather proud of being more feared than loved."

"I never remember" adds the correspondent proudly "to have seen in the German language, and least of all in a Vienna paper, such an eulogy of England and, at the same time, so thorough an understanding of the English character by an author of another nationality.".

THE BIGGEST DESERT IN THE WORLD.

Few people in the River Plate, or even in the Antipodes, have any idea of the fact that the biggest desert in the world exists in Australia; yet so it is. Much has been said and written about competition between Argentina and Australia. To anyone knowing anything of these countries as a whole, the idea is absurd. In the Argentine Republic, the pastoral stage is rapidly being transformed into the agricultural, and the picturesque 'gaucho' herdsman with his 'lazo' and 'bolas' is making room for the matter of fact European farmer with his steam thresher and plough. Australia, on the contrary, still remains in her pastoral stage of existence, and as a continent there she must remain until a vast amount of Capital is expended in the way of irrigation and water conservation. Speaking broadly, the present population of Australia is confined to a mere strip of coast line extending from Spencer's Gulf to Cape York. The coast districts have a fair rainfall, but on the average the soil is wretchedly poor, the good agricultural land being confined to the alluvial deposits on the banks of rivers and creeks, with occasional patches of rich volcanic soil. Beyond this coast belt, and after passing the coast range the interior table land is suited for wheat cultivation for a distance of something like 200 miles. But in the interior the rainfall is too uncertain to make agriculture profitable. There is a good deal of very fair stock country of course. In the great interior we find a solid block of a million square miles of the worst desert in the world, with an average rainfall of five inches for the whole; say an area of from 1200 miles East to West, by 800 North to South. This zone includes the south-west corner of Queensland, part of the Western districts of New South Wales, the whole of the interior of South Australia and Western Australia, extending in the South right down to the shores of the great Australian Bight, and very nearly over to the West Coast. This country consists of a succession of stony table-lands and waving sand hills. The formation is a loose alluvial drift, mixed with shingle stones. In this dry climate, the surface soil becomes finely pulverised and is blown away by the wind, finally forming wavy sand hills, or more correctly sand ridges. Many of these ridges are up to 300 feet in height and can be traced continuously for a hundred miles. But the average is from 40 to 60 feet, and usually a number run parallel with each other. The stones in the drifts being heavier, naturally accumulate on top eventually completely covering the surface of the ground, giving the country a most Satanic aspect. The salts of lime, sodium or magnesium are more or less intermixed with the dust, and consequently opthalmia is common. There is very little surface water. The lower parts of the Cooper and Diamantino are pretty well supplied, as they have their sources in the more fertile parts of Central Queensland. The Fincke river and a few smaller streams are more or less permanent. The vegetation is pretty well confined to shrubs and herbage, with a few stray tufts of dry grass which spring up during the rains. As an instance of the wonderful adaptability of nature, we find a kind of grass which germinates, matures, seeds and dies away inside of three weeks. So too with the animal life. The lower part of the Cooper only runs periodically, on an average every seven years, at other times forming a chain of water-holes. The instinct of the waterfowl has taught them only to nest when the river is in flood. Stock does wonderfully well on the variety of bush and herbage, but the trouble is that they have to range over such a large area in search of food, and the distance they can roam in this way is so small, that water conservation will not pay for the limited amount of stock which can be grazed on any given area. Consequently the few estancias which exist are confined to the permanent water. One of these, Cowarie Station, on the lower part of the Diamantino, is very well known to the writer. With an area of 4000 square miles, it was only possible to keep about 5000 head of cattle and 500 horses. Yet it was considered one of the best in this desert country. The aboriginal natives have been compelled to face the population question, and in their own most peculiar manner have effectually solved it. Being confined to the neighbourhood of the permanent waters, naturally the supply of fish and game available only sufficed for a limited number, for of course they could not exist right away back in the waterless country in the desert. Hence the necessity of restricting the population. The writer has seen something of most of the deserts of the old world, but nowhere has he seen such a continuous area of howling desolation as this waterless country in the land of the Kangaroo.

The desert on the west coast of South America may be of a worse class, but I doubt it very much. From this sketch of Australia, by one of her wandering sons, it will be obvious that the future of that country is limited.

A STORY OF CORRIENTES.

III.

Well, to return to my story:—The man offered a "velorio" to the Virgin of Itati, and in a dream she appeared to him and told him the treasure was buried under the ombu tree. So he went early the next day, taking a spade and pick with him, and he spent fully an hour looking for some sign or mark on the tree to shew on what side the treasure was buried, for the tree even then was a large one. The man was getting impatient; and, not to go back, commenced digging and made a hole nearly two yards deep without finding anything, so he lost his temper and was just commencing to swear at the heat, the horseflies and mosquitoes that were tormenting him, and finally at himself for being so superstitious; and he was bitterly regretting his coming on a wild-goose chase, when his poor wife, seeing him start for the ombu with spade and pick, her curiosity was aroused, jumped on an old "mancarron" and followed him and arrived on the scene; and he, after swearing at her, and in answer to her inquiry, told her what brought him there. She, having more brains than he, noticed that the winds had drifted the sand nearly two feet higher than the ground against the trunk of the ombu at the west side facing the lake. So she commenced clearing it away with her hands, and, to their joy, found, cut deep into the bark of the ombu on a level with the ground, a small cross. They then commenced digging with renewed hope and energy. The earth was very hard and stony, so that at first they made very little progress, but after digging another yard deep, they met the red sandy clay so common in Corrientes; and after digging another yard they came down upon a flat board about two feet square, which, with the assistance of his wife, he lifted up and underneath found a large iron pot, with the cover tied down with several pieces of wire and raw cowhide, that was half rotten. He soon cut away the hide and broke the wire with his knife, and on lifting the lid uttered a cry of joy, for in the pot they found a large canvas bag, which in one second they ripped open, and hundreds of gold ounces and silver Bolivianos fell on the ground.

Having carried their treasure home, they commenced to get nervous, fearing the alcalde, who lived about two leagues off, would hear of it and confiscate their treasure, claiming it as Government property. So they decided to move, and a few days after started with their treasure and family in a bullock-cart to Posadas, where they arrived, and then crossed to Paraguay, where they bought a large estancia near Villa Rica with the contents of the pot.

While I was listening to the old man, and inwardly regretting that Dame Fortune never smiled on me, and showed me where to find or how to make a fortune; the rain and wind continued with unabated violence, and I saw I would have to stop the night, as it was getting late. As soon as day faded into twilight and our short tropical twilight into darkness, I noticed the old man made a large fire, such a one as would do as a signal, and every half hour kept peeping out, as if he was trying to see through the darkness outside. This made me uneasy, especially as I had been in La Cruz the day before, and was told we were on the eve of another revolution, which would make the third during the four years I have been here. And I saw an aviso offering $1000 reward to anyone who would give information that would lead to the capture of one of the leaders of the revolutionists, supposed to be hiding at the other side of the mountains, until he collected sufficient men to take the other revolutionists near Libres. If it had not been for the storm I would have been home by this.

It must have been about ten o'clock when I heard a low shrill whistle repeated twice, and to my surprise the old man answered it, and a few minutes later 5 horsemen with remingtons rode up and dismounted. The smallest of them appeared to be the leader, as he was very well dressed, his "recado" one mass of silver, and carried what I now saw was a brand new Mauser of the Argentine model, whilst his companions only had remingtons. He seemed to be angry at seeing me and, pointing to me asked the old man who I was, and he answered in Guarani, that he thought I must have lost my way and had come to his house for shelter from the rain. By the light of the fire I now recognised him to be the revolutionary leader the $1000 were offered for, as I had seen his portrait in the comical paper Don Quijote.

He, seeing I appeared to recognise him, got furious and stamped his foot on the ground and said, "Señor you have come here to spy and gain your reward, but your greed and rashness will cost you very dearly, for you will collect your blood money in the other world." He then ordered the Teniente to tie my feet in order to prevent my escape. I told him he was mistaken, that I was no spy, but only a poor mayordomo of an estancia near La Cruz, and that I never meddled in politics, and that I was looking for some stray cattle and had come to the rancho for shelter from the rain, and that the peon that came with me got his horse bitten by a rattle snake, and he had to go back to the Estancia. This appeared to calm his fears, for he said I will soon know if you are telling the truth or not, as I have a soldier who is a Cruzeño and knows all the Mayordomos in the department, as he was a bolichero and used to call at all the Estancias selling yerba, biscuits etc. And as the estancia de los Ingleses is on the high road he must have passed your estancia dozens of times. This soldier I am expecting in a few minutes, and if he fails to recognise you we will soon put you beyond all earthly troubles.

SPORT

B.A. C.C. v. B.A. AND R. RAILWAY.

This match will be played to-morrow at Palermo, to commence at 10.30 a.m. Lunch and afternoon tea will be supplied by the Albion Club. The following is the B. Aires team:—

A. B. Boyd, E. R. Gifford, B. Dillon, R. E. H. Anderson, J. O. Anderson, A. Anderson, H. M. Mills, T. V. M. Knox, J. H. Webster, A. M. Barton and W. Graham.

THEATRES.

The second "Noche de Moda" at the San Martin last night produced some promised novelties, the principal being the performance of the elephants, two Shetland ponies and two large Danish hounds, who went through very clever evolutions. Decia and Castañeiras also gave a very clever exhibition on three horizontal bar. The sisters Barner in their characteristic Irish dance were capital and greatly applauded, as was also Miss Taylor for her "haute ecole" act. As usual, the theatre was crowded in every part.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The rain and the cold snap in the weather (another score for the Pergamino Wigginses) put everbody in good spirits "ayer." After the heat of summer (Autumn begins to-day) the citizens were glad to have mud under their shoe-leather again, and feel cool enough to don their Prat-cleaned clothes of last year, pretending they were brand new from MacMillan, Smart, Brown, Strong, etc., etc. New or old, however, the topic of the day in British and French circles was still the Dongola expedition. Madame La France has "climbed down" (without showing too much of her pretty ankles) considerably in 24 hours. She now confines her objection to allowing any French cash being spent in paying for the expedition of "Ce cher Jean Boule." Her friend the Bear does not seem much inclined to join her in crossing the Lion's path, so the whole hub-bub will probably fizzle as quickly as it rose.

The passengers by the Danube and Equateur had not a very agreeable day for their start for old Europe, and there was n't much go or gush in the farewell kissing. Even in the excitement of the parting moment, the two nationalities were discussing the Dongola question, and one of our most esteemed and constant French readers, who speaks broken English with a Gladstonian accent, raised a farewell laugh by a really splendid pun. Shaking hands with an English friend as the latter was stepping into the express after a hot discussion with him on the Egyptian question, he said, with a clever mixture of the two tongues: "Mon ami, Don ('t) go la." This parting shot raised a tremendous laugh, both in the train and on the platform.

In answer to "A National Guard," we beg to say that the usual Sunday drill or the citizen soldiers will commence this year on the first Sunday of next month, April. As to how long the drill may last, we are unable to say exactly, as it depends on the Government to some extent.

In this exceptional country no man knows when he may have to order his coffin, or have at least to call in a doctor. Yesterday morning the gallant Lt. Colonel Pereyra was breakfasting in a restaurant in Calle Santa Fé. when suddenly a row was got up and a fellow drew a revolver, it went off, and the bullet struck the distinguished officer in the right hand. We are glad to hear that the wound is in no way serious.

The rain yesterday morning and during the preceding night has proved a very great blessing for the quinteros around the town, who for the last month have been praying for rain. The gardens and quintas now look most beautiful, and the maize crop this year promises to be quadruple that of last year.

It was very generally said in town yesterday that General Roca is coming down from Cordoba in very poor health. and will at once leave for Europe with his family. The General will find a warm welcome in Europe from all his old friends, who will be delighted to see him. We hope he will go to Ireland, and attend the Dublin Horse-Show.

Yesterday we had a visit from an old friend who called our attention to the fact that if central city property, like that sold by Bullrich in Calle Mayo yesterday, shows decline. so also does camp property in some of the best and most valuable partidos, and he instanced the sale of the Archy Craig property in the partido Carmen de Areco the other day at $77\frac{m}{n}$ per hectare, equal to $130\frac{m}{n}$ per square. He says that 2 years ago that land was worth at the very lowest calculation $180\frac{m}{n}$ per square.

Last night another batch of friends left for Mar del Plata, where, according to last advices there are at present 600 visitors in the various hotels. Very many friends are thinking of going down for Holy Week, and as the Hotel charges are reduced, we strongly recommend the trip, People ask what in the world has become of our renowned Mar del Plata secretary, and why does he not at least send us news of the English families down there?

The news from Chile yesterday was not particularly peaceable. Our Transandine neighbours are getting their National Guards into trim, just as we are doing here, and they have ordered another powerful ironclad from Armstrong and Co. They have just welcomed the arrival from England of 21 engineers for their navy and half a dozen gunners from the same country. All this does not look very peaceful, taken with the tone of the Chilian press, and it evidently frightened the Aguila de Oro yesterday.

Let none of our readers deride or laugh at the wondrous story of Corrientes, now appearing daily in our columns, as we know the writer and can vouch for the truth of it. We shall publish it entire in our next Packet Edition.

The following telegrams are detained at River Plate Telegraph Co., 237 Calle San Martin:

"From London for Fireguard
" " " Conoreo"

Accidentally, or on purpose, one of our Montevideo colleagues had a printer's error skit at John Bull's weakness for liquid refreshment the other day. In a telegram from London it says: "It is the general impression here that the expedition is not going to Dongola but to "Beber" (Berber). We feel certain that the men of the expedition are not going to drink anything stronger than tea, as when Lord Wolseley, the present Commander-in-Chief, commanded in Egypt, he allowed the troops to drink nothing except tea, not even cold water, which induces dysentery in that burning climate, so the present expedition is to "Beber té, y nada mas."

Just after the death of Andrew Jackson, a friend of his met an old family servant and began asking him a few questions about his late master. "Do you think," he said, "that the General has gone to Heaven?" "Deed, I dunno, sah; dat jis' depen's." "Depends on what?" "Jis' depen's, sah, on ef de gin'al wanted to go, sah, er not," said the old darkey, with supreme confidence in the General: "Ef he wanted to go, sah, he am dah, sho'; an' ef he didn't, he ain't, sah."

We have over and over again, since we had the great pleasure of rocking the cradle of our youthful contemporary the Montevideo Times, tried to encourage it in the joking, punning and printer's mistakes line, advising it also to start a cellar and museum, or anything and everything to dispel the solemnity that generally pervades its columns. Now and then it flashes forth in a very promising way, and the following is by no means the worst of its efforts:—"The B. A. STANDARD is delighted because its junior-editor has returned from Europe with a long lost Ode. This is not O. D. V., because we know the STANDARD always prefers whisky, especially when the name of Buchanan is on the label."

On Thursday afternoon there was a interesting scene in the barracks of the crack 6th Regiment of Infantry of the Line at Palermo, when Commander Lezica formally introduced to the gallant and distinguished Colonel Ruiz, who commands the Regiment all the National Guard officers of the third Battalion affiliated to it. The gallant Colonel Ruiz, who is the youngest Colonel in the army, yet one of its most brilliant officers, addressed a short but thoroughly military speech to the young officers, holding up to them patriotic "duty" as the first and foremost ideal of every man in the Argentine army, from the private to the General. The young officers showed visibly that they felt the gallant Colonel's stirring words.

The "Tiro Federal" which commences to-morrow promises to be a more than usually grand affair. Great preparations are being made to ensure success in every way, and for the convenience of intending visitors. The following trains are to stop at the Hipodromo Argentino, from Central station at 7, 9.15, and 11.00 a. m. and 12.50, 1.15, 2.20, 3.45, 4.15, 5.25, 5.50, and 6.20 p.m. From Belgrano 7.33 and 8.58 a. m. and 12.45, 1.47, 4.50, 5.45 and 6.32 p. m.

Calle Suipacha was thrown into a state of commotion yesterday by the occurrence of a suspicious case of yellow fever. Full particulars will be found in our shipping colemn.

The news from Suez in our telegraphic column, is really quite too absurd. Just imagine British officers sneaking off with 200 Sudanese for South Africa! Why Sir Cecil Rhodes would indeed look on such allies as white elephants. That eminent Imperialist has got his hands quite full enough for the present without meddling with any more filibustering larks.

Slatin Pasha, in Fire and Sword in the Sudan, says that that ineffable blackguard the Caliph—so named by the Mahdi as his successor—has succeeded in finishing his work of destruction; and that throughout the Soudan, a territory nearly as big as India, there are to-day perhaps a quarter of the inhabitants who peopled it before the Mahdi raised his standard. In the face of such facts the Dongola expedition is raised to the dignity of a Holy Crusade.

The newspaper Tableaux Vivants at the Kermesse in Montevideo proved a success. As yet we have not received any report of what our other colleagues there "wore" on the occasion, but the representative of the Montevideo Times, Master Louis Fleury, was gorgeously attired as a herald, bearing the Royal Standard of Great Britain and Ireland on the front of his tabard and the Union Jack on the back, and carrying a trumpet and banner with the name of the paper inscribed upon it.

Bismark is said to have a presentiment as to the date of his death, which, however, he has never divulged.

The eternal question of the safety of the theatres is again before the public. It always crops up at this season of the year. This time the popular Politeama is first in the pillory, the commander of the Bomberos having reported that there is no facility for dealing with fire, and that the building is otherwise unsafe. Three or four years ago there was the same hullaballoo about this theatre being unsafe, yet, like Scotland, it still stands where it is, and the public flock to it.

Are our Caledonian readers aware of the interesring fact the first Scotch newspaper of which there is a record was the Mercurius Scoticus, which appeared on August 5, 1651, and disappeared again in November of the following year. It was a weekly paper.

In view of the belligerency unpleasantness between Uncle Sam and the Dons our esteemed Spanish contemporary the Correo has been thumbing over the United States Army List, and finds our Uncle's total regular force to be (on paper) 25,000 men, in 25 regiments of infantry (two of them Sambos) 10 of cavalry (2 also of darkies), 5 of Artillery and 1 of Engineers. There are 7½ millions of militia, of which only 106,000 are orgauized.

The following may be of interest to those about to marry, and, from what our special little bird reporter tells us, there is a good deal of work being cut out for Civil Registrars and clergymen of all denominations before the end of the year:—"The first wedding anniversary is the cotton; the second, paper; the third, leather; the fifth, wooden; the seventh woollen; the tenth, tin; the twelfth, silk and fine linen; the 15th, crystal; the 20th, china; the 25th, silver; the 30th, pearl, the 40th, ruby; the 50th, golden; the 75th, diamond. Golden weddings are rarely celebrated, and diamond weddings occur, of course, less frequently."

Montevideo has always been famous for people falling or throwing themselves from the "azoteas" into the street. The latest case is that of an old woman of 70 who took a header the other day from her roof into the patio. Instead of cracking her venerable skull on the bricks, her head went slap into an open kerosene can, and there she stuck, upside down, till released and sent to the Caridad Hospital.

The Battle of the Lotteries is about to be fought in the open field instead of in McGee's Back Yard as hitherto. The "Agentes Unidos," who have made and are still making fortunes out of their "clandestine" Lotteries, have opened a shop in Calle Piedad, for the express purpose of defying the National Lottery, the Government, the Law and the Police. They intend to carry their case to the Supreme Federal Court, and their lawyers are some of the foremost men at the Argentine Bar, so the legal fight will be a stiff one.

Ultimo Testimonio recibido

Señores Agar, Cross y Cia., Buenos Aires

Muy Señores mios

Con haber introducido en esta colonia su máquina ratormada MacCormick y á mas que en el dia de la fecha para que sea mas completa con la nueva aplicación á la misma máquina del Cutter Bar Frames, he recibido un perjuicio de regular consideracion y un beneficio que supera pero grandemente al perjuicio. Asi se lo manifesté verbalmente á su representante Sr. Jorge Winter. El perjuicio es que tengo muchas máquinas, segadoras de alfalfa y no sé que haré de ellas porque mis chacareros no quieren mas que MacCormick, y el beneficio es que teniendo alfalfares "sembrados espresamente con muchos graminios" todavia no habia encontrado máquina las cortara tan perfectamente como estas. Como en el año proxime cortaré mas de 2000 hectareas de alfalfa semilla y es alli donde se ven las buenas máquinas, les pediré algunas mas, segu venga el corte semilla, este año necesitaré dos. En un concurso, quisiera ver como se puede probar que haya maquina que supere á esta.

FIRST RING 218.20%
SECOND RING..... 218.80%

The reaction was a deception—a fraud. It never had any solid being; with the slightest drop in rates the glutted bears crept in to cover, and of course prices immediately stiffened, with the result that the rate after the first hour to-day was hard at 318,50 and this without rumours, complications or untoward circumstances of any kind. The fact is there is little gold offering with the market in this state, though paper is not over plentiful either, but the prospects do not hold out the slightest gleam of promise for a bearish move, and the bears, bilious with the gorgey gold, are getting out as fast as they can. Exchange is dropping, the contango keeps hard—half to full point for end of month and 4¼ to 5 points for end of April. and gold always in demand. Then the produce is moving off very slowly, and take the situation as you will, there is scarcely a relieving feature about it, from a bearish stand-point. Anything likely to turn up would, furthermore, rather tend to accumulate, the market in the groove which it moves in at present, than otherwise.

Business at the first honr in gold ran to 893,500 dollars of which about a quarter of a million changed hands for cash, the rate opening at 316.50, rising like cork under water, to 319, and then steadying to close at 318.20 buyers: afier the ring the demand continued and as high as 318.50 was done. The sales for end of month were just a trifle over those for cash, the price fluctuating between 317 and 320 to close at 319. For end of April sellers were scarce even with the big "pase" of five points ruling, and 324 was the highest touched. For other dates there was little difference in prices and stocks presented no feature of interest, beyond the sale of some South American Bank Note shares at 35.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

$ 253,500 for cash at 316.50-317-317.50--318-318.50-319-318.50-318-318 30-318-317.50-318- 317.80-318-318.20-30-50-318-318.30-50-20 30-318.20.

Exchange was weaker again to-day, though brokers were busy in the morning and the market swept pretty clean of bills; they said that some of the banks had taken freely at 48d. With produce going forward very slowly, the wheat practically at an end and broken weather, rates are now quoted nominally.

Antwerp 5.07 fcs.
Hamburg 4.10 mks.

Shipping brokers think there are fair prospects of a better outlook for freights, as there is a reviving demand for prompt tonnage for parcels. Several charters are reported effected recently, but business is still very slow, and but for the old maize still to go forward and a splendid new crop coming on, the prospects would be the reverse of rose-hued. The merchants expect to see freights lower still, but brokers report bottom touched.

Splendid news for sheep-farmers. Reference to our advertising columns will show them that they can get the "lombriz" cured radically and in less than no time by a practical man. It is a problem solved. Applications can be made at 1664 Cuyo and business is straight enough, as no charge is made until the cure has been effected.

The cables from London to-day announce Argentine stocks firm and the City Improvements up ¼ to 67½. £56,000 hove been shipped for this market.

Rosario advices announce steady rain there. Mr. Reade, representative of Baring Bros., has arrived up to arrange for a further term in which to take up the rails in the Boulevard Argentino. The merchants keep hammering away at the Government about the port, the sand banks and 5 old hulks that are a continual terror to captains.

The importance of the business in live stock can be gauged from the fact that in spite of the low prices ruling in the English market; the exports from La Plata port alone for the first-half of this month embraced 3,126 head cattle and 13,493 sheep, the weight ranging from 565 to 702 kilos and 59 to 62 kilos respectively.

Messrs Kingsland and Brougham were far the heaviest shippers with 1242 cattle and 4,492 sheep. The fodder shipped embraced 2,000 tons hay, 191¼ tons maize, 128¾ tons bran, 30½ tons oats and 103 sundries.

Lots of people are still leaving town in spite of the broken weather. Mr. Fnnor manager of the London and Brazilian Bank, has left for Mar del Plata and also Mr. Gregory of the Southern Railway. Messrs. Bouwer and Craik have left on an inspection over the Central Argentine.

Plenty of movement reported from Bahia Blanca. The ss. Chantrey has taken in 3000 bags wheat and 288 bales wool and the ss. Kingsland 98 bales, whilst in sailers the Jassich has loaded 1800 bags, the Louisa 200 bags, and the Ragna 800, all from Southern Railway mole. The Gazella is preparing to load. Some 5000 bags have gone into the galpones.

The rigidity of the premium was more pronounced than ever at the second hour, the rates stiffening up so fiercely that it looked at one time as if there was going to be a panic in the market. Gold was looked for all round. Those that secured for to-morrow under 319 considered that they had done a very good business, and after the hour there was much inquiry at 319 and few sellers. The "pase" for April rather deepened and still no sellers. In fact of the 600,000 dollars disposed of, the great bulk was for to-morrow and end of month, to the exclusion of other dates. The rapid fall in exchange so early in the season seems to have affected the market greatly, and in the evening it was said that the market had been clean swept; marks that were easy yesterday at 4.11½ not to be had to-day at 4.10 nor sterling, at 48d. As matters stand, it looks as if the bears were in for a squeeze at to-morrow's liquidation.

The following is a summary of the operations effected to-day at the second ring:—

Circulars were handed round to-day announcing that Mr. A. Marguardt, agent of the North German Lloyd Company, has moved his offices to Cuyo 327.

There is a good deal going on in mining now and interest was never brisker in this line, though, as we have repeatedly pointed out, enterprise is fearfully handicapped by lack of a practical, workable mining code. Dr. Gonzalez, who is at present engaged on the task of reforming the code actually in force, is a poet, lawyer and politician; such attributes, however distinguished they may be, are not calculated to develope mining or geographical acumen or experience, and though Dr. Gonzalez comes from a mineral zone we doubt if he has ever seen mining in practice. The best, therefere, that can be expected is that he will draw largely on the provisions of the North American code for inspiration, and this would be a great step in the right direction. In Chubut the Rio Corintos and Lago Fontana mines are moving, as also the Neuquen mines; in San Juan an expert is examing the Gualilan mines, which it will be remembered were worked some years ago by Messrs Pearson Morrison and Vivian, for an English syndicate. Messrs Levy and Hackett are prospecting in same province. In Mendoza the syndicate of which Mr. Castells is representative is steadily working ahead, and in Cordoba the Cruz del Eje mines, which La Industrial found too big a job for its capital, will soon be reopened. In fact there is lots of interest in this line, but the defective code in force is a clog on individual enterprise and effort, and until this is amended the business will have to plod along slowly. There will never be a gold fever under such conditions. And it is obvious that when a company does not work profitably the whole thing is abandoned, whereas with individuals it is different; they stick longer at it, to begin with, and if it does not pay they try and try again in other parts instead of giving in altogether. It is to be hoped that Dr. Gonzalez will bear this in mind.

The Brazilians are evidently casting about to raise the wind, as we see by the telegrams that an English syndicate has made an offer of 25 millions sterling for the Central Railway. It is to be supposed that some feelers were thrown out on this head. The bid is a big and a bold one, but nothing is said as to the probability of its being accepted or not.

There is nothing further about the carbuncle in Bavio, and it is expected that the measures taken by the authorities have been timely enough to isolate the disease, which is the first step towards stamping it out. The estancieros will breathe more freely when they are assured that this is so.

Quite a large party of friends assembled at the Central Station this afternoon to speed Mr. Adolfo Azevedo, (son of the Brazilian capitalist Com. Domingo Azevedo and Mr. Eugene Brussaux, who left in the Equateur for Rio. We wish them "bon voyage" and hope to see them back soon.

Our German correspondent, who has left on a trip over the Pacific Railway, sent us the following wire to-day:—

Splendid trip. Raining all along the line. Camps and animals in good condition. Train service perfect. "Cordon bleu" from George Mercer's served up as good a dinner as in the Cafe Paris.

The Semana Rural made its appearance to-day for this week. Our bucolic colleagues are so numerous now that we scarcely have time to salute them, but all are well edited and well supplied with valuable information.

In another column we publish the balance-sheet, 36th yearly, of the Equitable Life Assurance Co. which is doing a prodigious business. Forty four and a quarter millions gold dollars income and 27 millions expenditure are mammoth figures. The outstanding assurances at end of year were $912,509,553 of which about 15¾ represented the increase or new policies effected in 1895, the care taken by the company in doing only sound business being evidenced by the fact that proposals to over 22 ½ millions were declined. The assets at end of year stood at $201.009,387 gold dollars. We recommend all our readers to peruse this balance-sheet as an interesting sample of the stupendous amount of money engaged in this line of business by one company alone.

"Dear Sir:

About a month ago I read in your columns a notice of a new industry having been started in this country by the manufacture of impermeable paper suitable for use in covering alfalfa stacks, piles of maize, wheat etc.

Will any of our readers kindly give me the address of the manufacturers, as I wish to make a trial of the article.

Yours truly.

Late cables from London announce the Funding Loan firm at 82¾ and brisk demand, which is good news, with gold going up and apparently not affecting the stocks. Wool and produce generally firm.

Telegrams from Rio report that market glutted with jerked-beef and prices weak. Argentine live-stock is scarce and sells at 600 reis the kilo; maize heavy stock at 600 to 650 reis the bag of 62 kilos; flour at 28,000 to 29,000 reis bag of 44 kilos, fair stock and alfalfa 140 to 145 reis the kilo with small stock.

The sugar-syndicate which was reported to have succeeded in forming the 'ring' has met with a check that threatens to upset the whole business again. A number of mills have resisted all the overtures made up to the present and the syndicate despairs of enticing them to terms. The Refineria Argentina has suspendod all sales.

The Finance Minister has accepted the tender of Mr. Jacob Peuser, the well-known publisher, to print 1,630,000 "control wrappers" for cigars, for $3,226 m/n.

Messrs Soutas and Co. have petitioned the Finance Minister to establish a branch Custom House (Resguardo) on the Arroyo Lemos, to "fiscalize" the shipping of produce there.

Government has authorized the Salubrity Commissioners to contract with Messrs Bernarder and Co for the domiciliary drainage works in the Rawson Hospital.

The Government has resolved that the balance remaining over from last year's Budget voted for throwing a bridge over the river Batel in Corrientes, shall be devoted this year to the purpose.

Government has recognized in favour of Messrs Roca and Co. the amounts due by it to Messrs Storni and Travesso.

The Custom-House receipts to-day were:—

	$ paper	$ gold
Imports and exports to-day.....	486,870	20,650

The Minister of Finance has fixed the price of gold for payment of Custom-dues at 318 for Saturday, March 21st.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Our peripatetic arrived up from the South to-day having visited Rauch, Ayacucho and Tandil, which he reports all in want of rain, so that if the frosts come on the stock will soon shew the effects. Several transactions are reported: Mr Vila sold 600 steers to "invernar" at $40, buyer Mr. Pereir of Cañuelas; in Ayacucho 400 steers have been sold for matadero at $35 each and some batches of wethers for export at $10 put in waggon with "guia" paid; there have been also heavy purchases of wethers for market, but waggons are so hard to get that the delivery is a tedious business. In Tandil 500 cows have been sold at $19; there is a great scarcity noted in this line and brisk demand.

Our well-informed colleague La Agricultura reports good inquiry for Rio Negro camps and many intending purchasers gone down there to see for themselves. This confirms what we have written about the movement in these lands. In the neighbourhood of the Colorado the people are anxious to learn if the Government is going to help them along by canalizing the river, as unless something is done in this line, this water-way, as an artery of communication, is little better than useless. A Syndicate has offered to do the thing roundly and completely, starting back from Mendoza, for a modest compensation in the way of lands, and, in view of the big interests engaged in the business, the Government could not do better than let them have it. It would be a great opening for Mendoza, San Luis and the Colorado zone.

We hear of a beautiful quinta in Flores sold with furniture and everything complete for a good round sum, but the details are kept in reserve. It is one of the handsomest places in evergreen Flores and the price paid is considered very satisfactory.

Messrs. Funes, Lagos and Co offered for sale to-day 3347 hectares or say about 1¼ league in Las Flores, 9 squares from Estacion Vilela, known as the Nolaseo Rojas camp. with reserve of 25 the hectare, but there were no buyers and the sale fell through.

Same auctioneers then soid a fine lot of Durham cows from General Bosch's Cabaña as follows:—

Advices from Concordia report concessions selling in Dr. Irigoyen's colony Adela in Concordia at $150 the hectare, the buyers paying cash, though they had the option of paying at dates. The land is some of the best in that quarter and there are several important vineyards there.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

Taking the market from a general point, one notices that the difference between the exterior and our prices is spreading far apart. These sudden changes shake the tranquil position of our affairs. Pessimists laugh at the present circumstances, but the old refrain "who laughs last" may tell heavily on the other party. The Once is full of cereals, but buyers do not seem inclined to cope with the arrivals. A couple of days ago the demand was far stiffer than the arrivals, the relapse points out strong this morning. After the various changes, linseed has at last been able to come to the fore, the pressure put on the article by exporters has relapsed, and if the telegrams from Europe continue on the same scale, we may soon notice a spurt in this grain which will make exporters open their eyes. For the past month linseed has passed through a rough period, but the stock is accumulating so rapidly that one notices buyers flocking to a circle that formerly was neglected. The prices for this grain are rising fast in Europe; farmers, counting on the bad news already spread about, will not sell under their own prices, the demand being there it remains to be seen how far sellers will give in. A lot of damage has been done in spreading the report that the crop had failed its average.

No variation is noticed incereal prices in London. If anything a slackness was noticed in the general operations, wheat sold at 25 shillings and linseed at 30 and 3 pence.

The stock of Argentine cereals is rapidly diminishing in Antwerp, the few sales only reached 14½ francs, and linseed at 19¾ francs. The latter shows a stronger feeling.

Taking a basis from European telegrams we notice that our two markets do not clash, to-day in our own markets wheat and maize were firm and closed with a rising tendency, however, the exterior markets show that a decided flatness overrules business operations. Large contracts are being made in cereals, principally in linseed, but owing to the privateness in all transactions the general opinion is slack. Prices all round are more or less the same and do not seem inclined to rise.

To-day exporters will have to pay the difference of the trick. Losses have occurred in several districts, but with all this there is still sufficient on hand to meet both the "consumo" and foreign demand.

As regards wool, we notice that 600,000 kilos were sold this morning. The French "artistas" predominated and held the reins in fine wool.

Messrs. Devoto Balbiani and Co. sold in the Central 220,000 kilos of fine wool from the Province of Buenos Aires from 8 to 9 dollars.

The stock in the Central is for the moment 11,000,000 kilos of wool. Cow-hides are so so, sheepskins show a rising tendancy, operations in the latter are daily increasing.

As announced yesterday we continue the series on wheat:

Grades of wheat for season 1896.

N° 1. (Elevator) Santa Fé (or Rosario) Wheat shall be choice, dry, sound, clean, and of uniform quality.

N° 2. (Elevator) Santa Fé (or Rosario) Wheat shall be sound, dry, reasonably clean, and of uniform quality, not inferior to Inspection Standard at time of shipment.

Fair Average Quality Frances Wheat shall be Wheat grown from French seed, shipped in good condition in the original bags, selected for quality to be fair average at time and place of shipment.

Fair Average Saldome Wheat shall be White Wheat shipped in good condition in original bags selected for quality to be fair average quality at time of shipment.

Grades of maize for season 1896

N° 1. River Plate Maize to be sound, dry, well cleaned, Maize of bright colour and plump berry, fit for shipment in sailing vessel. Inspected in the original bags.

N° 2. River Plate Maize (f.a.q.) to be Maize of fair average quality of the season, dry, reasonably clean, and fit for shipment in sailing vessel, but may contain a small proportion of discoloured grains. Inspected in original bags.

N° 3. River Plate Maize to be dry, reasonably clean, and fit for shipment by sailing vessel but may be of inferior quality and contain discoloured grains. Inspected in original bags.

Elevator Maize of the above grades to be Maize that has been handled in an Elevator previous to shipment.

The Rosario and Montevidean markets offer so little change that one can easily classify them together. Strange that two such important circles should be so dull. The prices in wheat and maize show no difference, where a slight reaction has come in is in wheat, linseed is also trying hard to break throught its present situation as prices have not changed it is quite useless reproducing the old ones as the exporters are just as "au fait" with them as ourselves. Some few transactions were concluded in linseed, but the quantity was not large enough to report. The stagnation in operations both in Rosario and Montevideo explains very clearly that the falling off is not due to the arrivals but to the strife between the buyers and sellers, this tug of war should and ought not to continue as the result is a complete paralyzation in all produce competition. Both ports have a certain number of exporters who have nothing else to do but to fulfil their orders, but with all this speculation runs the gauntlet to all others rivals.

ARRIVALS.

The following vessel arrived in the Roads to-day and were visited by the Port Doctor:—

In free pratique—

ENTERED.

DEPARTURES.

RIVER STEAMERS

The Venus leaves to-morrow for Montevideo.

GENERAL.

The Finance Minister has given orders to the Rentas Office and Prefectura Maritima that in the case of vessels arriving from Sweden and Norway that have certificates of tonnage from those countries, they need not be verified, except in cases where there are well grounded suspicions of fraud.

The Health Board has been authorized by the Government to build another "galpon" for sick passengers at Martin Garcia.

The Coringa is found to have sprung a leak communicating with one of the water-tanks and will probably go to the La Plata Port for provisional repairs until she can be overhauled in the dry dock.

The Norwegian barque Remitente is reported lost off the Brazilian coast at the Salinas del Pará. The officers and crew got off safely, but the ship and cargo are a total loss.

The fine transport 1° de Mayo left this morning for the South Coast with passengers and cargo. This is her fourth voyage. She takes down provisions for the Sub-prefecturas. This branch of traffic is completely monopolised by the transports for the simple reason that private parties never think of the immense resources of the South.

According to advices received to-day from Rio, some accident must have happened to the Duca di Galliera, which was being tugged towards Montevideo by the British steamer Sydenham. The news was first made known in Rio by the Capt. of the Matteo Bruzzo, which passed the Duca, not, however, without signalling, which elicited the reply. All well on board.

The Duca di Galliera passed on the 17th Cape Santo Tomé, Brazil being towed from Pernambuco to Montevideo.

The Matteo Bruzzo on her voyage from Brazil to this port has left Rio Janeiro.

The Madonna del Carmen has arrived at Patagones, whence she will return hither on the 25th with 400 bales of wool. She encountered very heavy weather on her voyage down.

The Litoral of the same line arrived at Bahia Blanca on the 18th instant having left the Boca on the 15th. She will leave on her return journey on the 22nd with 1000 bales of wool for Lorthois Fréres and H. von Eicken of this city.

The following were the freights paid by the Danube:—Rio $5 gold, Pernambuco $7 gold, Southampton 12/6.

The Portuguese ss. Tejo which arrived to-day will leave again direct for Para, Brazil.

The Norwegian bq Simeon left the roads to-day for San Pedro to load.

The Italian ss Messapia is expected to arrive to-morrow from Genoa with 353 passengers; also the Bellenden from Liverpool.

The Bearn, Chiswick and Mercurio should to-morrow be granted free pratique,

The following vessels cleared to-day:—ss Argo for Rio, sailing craft Bonito for Montevideo, White Wings for Rio and Eva Linch for Barbadoes.

Several sailing vessels remained unvisited to-day by the health-officer on account of the high sea running.

The German s s Lydia shifted to-day from Dock No 3 to No 1; also the Janeta from the Boca to No 2 and the Holgate from the Darsena to the Boca.

The Austrian s s Naprid was to-day run into by the Norwegian bq Gratia as she—the Naprid—was leaving for La Plata. The Gratia was loaded with wheat for Europe but will now enter the Ensenada port to repair damages consisting principally of the loss of an anchor and injury to a winch.

The peasant-girl Henriette Verges who accompanied from France the unfortunate lady Mrs. Marie Sajous in the Bresil, is down with yellow fever. Mrs Sajous died on the 6th instant in the lazaretto of Martin Garcia and the girl arrived here on the 15th, going at once to live in the house of an aunt at Suipacha 267. Henriette began to feel ill on Wednesday or say twelve days, after the death of Mrs. Sajous. She will be taken out to the floating hospital where she will be attended by Dr. Otero. The inhabitants of the house in Suipacha have been isolated and every precaution is being taken by the sanitary authorities to prevent the possibility of any spread of the infection.

The Captain of the Daventry is lying dangerously ill on board the Rodolfo del Viso, but the remainder of the yellow fever patients are progressing favourably.

The news from Martin Garcia is also highly satisfactory. The Bearn's passengers will probably be landed here on Monday next.

The Guarany is declared so far to be free of yellow fever. One of the crew died on the voyage from Santos of a heart-complaint and another is ill, presumably from the bad quality of the food supplied on board. The vessel remains, however, in "observation". There is no other news from any of the vessels at the quarantine anchorage.

La Plata Port.

March 20th

ENTERED.

British ss Zarate from Cardiff with coal to discharge.

DEPARTURES.

Brit. ss Lombard for London with grain and live-stock.

French do Equateur for Bordeaux and intermediate ports with passengers, mails and cargo.

GENERAL

There remained to-day in the Rio Santiago pens awaiting shipment 1349 steers and 3530 wethers.

The Lombard left to-day for Deptford with 160 steers and 1020 wethers shipped by Erausquin & Co.

The R. M. S. Danube left at 6 p. m for Southampton.

The Danube took 20 boxes of cheese, 20 of potatoes, 225 of butter, 17 bales of sheepskins, 1000 of jerked beef, 3400 bags of linseed, 4167 of maize and 80 of barley.

The Equateur also left at a later hour for Bordeaux.

The Duchessa di Genova is posted to leave on Sunday the 22nd for Genoa, with passengers, mails and cargo.

AGUA MINERAL "COPAHUES"

Marca registrada Copahues, alcalina, única para la mesa, de la Boca del Rio Estacion Cacheuta, de Mendoza, linea transandina á Chile. Esta direccion sirve para quien quiera interesarse y asi comprobar la legitimidad del agua y asegurarse que con la Copahues no se engaña. Esta agua, que surge de las vivas rocas de los Andes, es recomendada por todos los médicos que tuvieron ocasion de experimentarla, y declarada superior á todas las conocidas hasta ahora por sus virtudes terapéticas, curando perfectamente y en pocos dias las dispepsias, el catarro del estomago y las enfermedades del higado y riñones, como lo comprueban los múltiples certificados que se van publicando en varias formas. Al mismo tiempo la casa hace observar que es la mas barata, entre las naturales, porque se vende á domicilio en Bs. Aires, á 24 pesos el cajon de 48 botellas grandes, teniendose á mas de medias botellas y de varios tamaños para la comodidad de las familias. A los pobres que se presentaren con receta al deposito principal, casa del arquitecto Sr. Del Bono, Boulevard Ministro Inglés 1691, entre Boulevard Corrientes y Pera, recibirán gratis 3 botellas de alcalina ó bien una de purgante: ésta ultima, sin tantas descripciones, cualquiera que la tome será médico por si mismo; tanto son eficaces sus efectos y sin molestia ni dolores y de una cierta agradabilidad de gustar hasta á los niños, y no solamente de purgante, sino para la inmediata depuracion de la sangre. No confundir el agua sulfurosa de Copahué, declarada para baños, por quien la conoce absolutamente milagrosa, que se encuentra tambien en las cordilleras (del Neuquen) y otras tantas de suma importancia, pero delicil la explotacion por sus incómodas posiciones, con la mineral Copahues, de la Boca del Rio, Estacion Cacheuta—Union Telefónica 4004.

LAS AGUAS DE COPAHUES—De la exhibicion de documentos que no se ha hecho con motivo de la carta del Gobernador del Neuquen, Señor Rawson, resulta que las Aguas Copahues es simplemente un titulo, una marca de comercio, y no significan que sean las que en Neuquen permanecen en fuentes inaccesible á la explotacion. Las aguas llamadas Copahues son tomados en Boca del Rio Cacheuta, en Mendoza, y son por lo tanto de region bien distinta.
